

My problem was I would spend at least a day each month ‘faffing’ about with paperwork, expenses and invoices, getting frustrated and cross.

I finally took the plunge in 2016 to work with book keeper Alison Buck of Rosemary Book-keeping. She explained how she worked and that it would take her a while to get used to me and the crazy life of a media person. She was excited by working with me and not in the least daunted.

Today I send her random things almost every day and she just gets it done. I’ve now re-claimed those frustrating hours to get back to doing what I really want to do. Should have done it years ago.

If you’re like me – give Alison Buck a call.